The administration of Urgench State University finances various projects in order to support the scientific research of university professors and young scientists. In addition, it is encouraged to publish the results of all disciplines and interdisciplinary research in Scopus and Web of Science journals. For each published article, research groups are paid material money from the university budget.